

WARNING

You climb at your own risk. Climbing is a dangerous activity carrying the risk of serious injury or death. If you climb, the presumption is that you are aware of and accept these risks together with responsibility for your activities and your safety. You are the sole judge of conditions, the suitability of any chosen route, the ability of the party and you take sole responsibility for your actions. Rock is a dynamic medium and rockfalls are frequent. In the mountains the weather changes quickly, climbs change unpredictably; blocks, flakes and holds become loose and fall off, rock becomes vegetated and dirty, in situ gear deteriorates or disappears. Even a minor change can have a dramatic effect on the difficulty or seriousness of a route. There can be no presumption that any given climb will be found in the condition described. It is therefore essential that climbers judge the seriousness or difficulty of any route before committing themselves.

While every effort is made to present accurate information, the descriptions, grades and comments provided in this guidebook are compiled from a number of sources. They may contain errors, are subjective or may have changed and should not be relied on. Neither the FRCC nor anyone involved with the production of this guide can be held responsible for any inaccuracies, omissions or mistakes, nor liable for any personal or third party injuries or damage, howsoever caused, arising from the use of this information.

Copyright

© FRCC Guides 2024

Published by The FRCC: Industrial and Provident Societies Reg. 30506 R

FRCC GUIDES

Instructions for downloading and printing.

The mini-guides and crag pdfs can be downloaded to your smartphone or tablet

- 1. click on the link https://www.frcc.co.uk/mini-guide-downloads/
- 2. scroll through the menu
- 3. select the pdf you want by clicking the link
- 4. a new window opens with the contents of the pdf
- 5. on your computer select Print or Export and print or save the pdf
- 6. on your smartphone or tablet choose send and choose a destination

Printing

A5 pdfs can be printed 2 pages side-by-side on A4 paper.

Each crag starts at the top of a new page so, to save paper and ink, you can choose which pages (Crags) to print.

To keep you informed and updated we are publishing crag and mini-guides to the area. Our pdfs are constantly updated to provide accurate and up to date information about new developments in the Lakes. All of this information is collated by volunteers from the FRCC Guidebook Team. These downloads supplement our comprehensive and selected guidebooks:

FRCC WIRED GUIDES

- Lakes Sport & Slate
- Lake District Rock

FRCC GUIDES

- Dow & Coppermines
- Langdale
- Borrowdale
- Eastern Crags
- Eden Valley & South Lakes Limestone
- Duddon & Wrynose
- Buttermere & St Bees
- Gable & Pillar
- Lake District Winter Climbs
- Scafell & Wasdale
- Eskdale

Our guidebooks can be purchased at https://www.frcc.co.uk/shop/ Free shipping for orders over £30.

Cinder Hill Crag OS Ref: SD 202921

The main slab is a fair complement to nearby Ribcage, Fox&Yewbarrow Crags.

The two subsidiary routes are included only for the record and it is not recommended that any attempt is made to climb them.

Approach from parking in the disused quarry at 54.317409 -3.233677

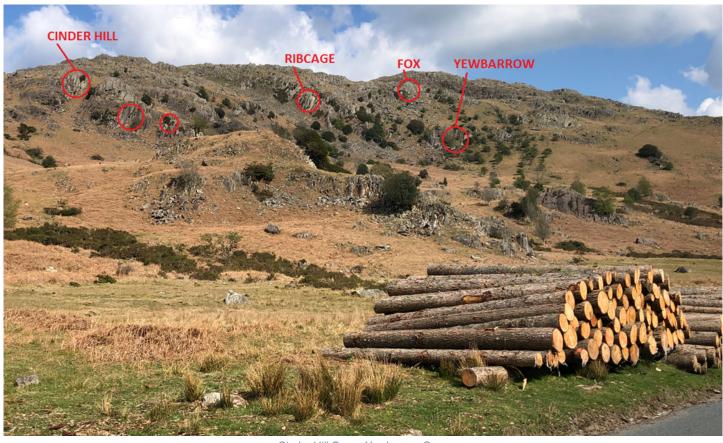

Cinder Hill Crag - Bonne Chance

Cinder Hill Crag - Main Slab

© FRCC Guides December 2024 Page 3

Cinder Hill Crag - Yewbarrow Crag

Main Slab:

Serendipity S † New 9m

Climb the left side of the slab.

23.04.2022 D Scott-Maxwell, A Gittins

Climb the centre of the slab via an obvious rightward trending groove.

23.04.2022 D Scott-Maxwell, A Gittins

Climb the steep wall about 2m left of the deep chimney below the holly tree.

23.04.2022 D Scott-Maxwell, A Gittins

Lower Wall:

The line of this route is rather obvious from the road from where it looks attractive. It is not, the name tells all. 29/04/2022 D Scott-Maxwell, A Gittins

Nose - 54.317964-3.227561

A short little nose with a sapling at its foot. Approach from the right hand side, grab a prominent hold on the arête and you're done. FA: Dave Scott-Maxwell, Andy Gittins, 29/Apr/2022

29.04.2022 D Scott-Maxwell, A Gittins

© FRCC Guides December 2024 Page 4